

FEED YOUR MIND

Made by:
Matea Jovanovic

THE FUTURE OF FOOD

Many of us eat different food for each meal everyday. Sometimes it could be exhausting to prepare food because you've got to make it tasty and good-looking. You would also waste a lot of time on cooking, baking, frying etc. That's why one man by the name Rob Rhinehart solved this problem by creating Soylent.

CREATING SOYLENT

Rob Rhinehart is an engineer in his twenties and he created soylent because he didn't have much money. In the past he used to eat only fast food because it was cheap and he could afford it. But he realized how unhealthy it was making him. That's why he decided to create soylent. He studied biology and chemistry just so he could create it. Soylent is a mixture of 35 essential nutrients that we need to survive. Soylent is a powder that you dissolve in water and drink.

FOOD OR SOYLENT?

Rob claims that Soylent made him much healthier, but scientists don't agree with him. They say that people don't just need nutrients to survive, but they also need food. Eating food is a part of every culture and everyone enjoys eating delicious food. Like many people, I personally don't agree with Rob no matter how 'healthy' soylent could be. I prefer eating and tasting different varieties of food.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION